DIED AT KENNARD.
Mrs. Sarah J. Campbell Passes Away After a Lingering Illness.

Mrs. Sarah J. Campbell died Thursday last at her home in the Kennard neighborhood, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Campbell was the mother of William, James and Henry Campbell, who, it will be remembered, came to their death several months ago by being overcome with foul air while cleaning out an old well.

Mrs. Campbell had a number of relatives in this city.

The funeral took place Saturday with services by the Rev. Mr. Reid, after which the remains were interred in the Cemetery at Shannon.

DESERVED PROMOTION.
Mr. George H. Fitch Now General Secretary of Cincinnati Y. M. C. A.

Some time since the announcement was made that General Secretary George H. Tibbitts of the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. had resigned.

It created quite a surprise here among the members of that institution and those who knew the Secretary.

But the wisdom of the Board of Directors was shown when they selected as his successor Mr. George H. Fitch, one of the finest fellows to be found anywhere. He was born in old Kentucky, at Tullahoma, Lewis county, where they don't raise anything but the best.

In later years Mr. Fitch took up his residence in Cincinnati, and became associated with Y. M. C. A. work, and his promotions have been rapid and deserved.

He has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his good fortune. May his shadow never grow less.

Some time ago the C. and O. Railroad asked permission to lay a switch across Third street in the Fifth Ward, said track to hold three cars. It was refused, as Council thought the size of the switch not sufficient to accommodate the shippers of that end of the city. The Railway Company has since secured the lot adjoining its property, and last night presented the following petition to Council, said switch being of sufficient length to accommodate nine cars.

MAYSVILLE, KY., March 1, 1900.
To the Honorable Board of Council of the City of Maysville—Gentlemen: The undersigned respectfully petition your honorable body for permission to make a connection track from its main line tracks in the Fifth Ward of this city of Maysville to its property abutting thereon, corner Poplar and Third streets; said connection to be built and shown by plan sent to Council and under the supervision of the Internal Improvement Committee.

MAYSVILLE AND BIG SANDY RAILROAD CO.

The petition was granted, and the following ordinance was passed in connection with it:

Be it resolved by the Board of Council of the city of Maysville, That permission is hereby granted the Maysville and Big Sandy Railway Company and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company to lay down a railway track across the North side of Third street, between Bruce alley and Poplar street, according to the plans and specifications on file in the City Clerk's office; said track is to be used as a public switch. The said track is to be laid under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the Board of Internal Improvement.

Second—The said railway companies to indemnify the city against any damages for which the city may be liable for any injury to property or person on account of such use of the street by said railway companies.

Following building permits were granted:

William Daugherty, Sixth street, Fourth Ward, Improvements to dwelling.

Joseph Moyer, Williams street, Sixth Ward, one-story frame house.

Mr. B. H. Holts and others, Second street, Fifth Ward, frame stable and coalhouse combined.

The proposition to place steps in Morgan's alley was discussed at some length, and finally a committee was appointed, consisting of Councilmen R. R. Frost and George P. Beasley and Messrs. Jeff Easton, Samuel McNutt and Samuel Smith to investigate and report to Council as to the advisability of placing them therein.

The delinquent tax list of 1897 was brought in by Treasurer Fitzgerald and it includes the names of several good people. The Treasurer was instructed to notify the delinquents of 1897, 1898 and 1899 that if they did not pay their taxes by the 15th of May their property would be advertised and sold.

If the First Ward people want a pavement on the North side of Second street all they have to do is consult Hon. Thomas M. Wood, and he will tell them of two ways they can get the proper relief.

Strawberry alley will get two lamp-posts.

Council ordered the issue of $500 bonds for the payment of the orders allowed last night.

Messrs. George Wood and George Goggin were named Auctioneers of the lot.

Hon. Thomas M. Wood, our most worthy City Attorney, was granted a week's leave of absence.

Melissa Ramey, colored, was taken off the pension list, as she gets a Government pension and pays it into a building association.

Snack thieves got in their work again Sunday night in the Fourth Ward. They relieved Mr. George W. Orr of all the coal he had, not even leaving enough to cook a meat with. If they will only come back they can get the coalhouse and yard, as there is no use having them empty. They also stole two milk tubs, a pair of overhauses and several other articles that were not nailed down from several of Mr. Orr's neighbors.

STOCK SALES.

A Good Crowd in Town, But the Mud Was Knee Deep.

One thing is dead sure—mud doesn't prevent the farmer from attending to his business.

Yesterday was stock sales day, County Court Day and a pretty day over head, but the mud was knee deep almost.

Notwithstanding all this, there was a large crowd in town, and the sales of stock were quite satisfactory to all.

If the good farmers and stock people generally will only bring their No. 1 stock to town on the first Monday in the month they will find ready sales and receive good prices for all they bring.

Of course the merchants who advertised in THE LEDGER reaped their share of the sales.

Defenses Cannot Be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running ear or discharge. The tube is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Also cases out of ten are caused by eczema, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ARMS RETURNED

The Removal of Kentucky's Arsenal from Frankfort to Louisville Suddenly Stopped.

OFFICIALS GIVE NO REASON FOR IT.

There is a report that the War Department at Washington ordered the immediate change.

The Removal of the Arsenal Equipment was the Subject of a Resolution Introduced in the Senate.

Frankfort, Ky., March 6.—The orders for shipment of guns and ammunition from the state arsenal to Louisville, Ky., by the republican state authorities was revoked, and a car loaded with munitions of war was returned to Louisville and its contents returned to the arsenal here. The officials give no reason for the change of programme. The soldiers, acting under orders, worked all forenoon loading the cars. The report that the war department at Washington interfered and has ordered the guns and ammunition to be taken to Louisville to be returned here.

The removal of the arsenal equipment was the subject of a resolution in the senate. It was offered by Senator Triplett, anti-German democrat, and reads:

Resolved, That a committee of two members of the senate and three members of the house be appointed to investigate the report now current that the guns, arms and munitions of the state have been removed by W. K. Taylor, or by his orders to certain officers of the state troops, to Louisville, Ky., and that if said report is found to be true, the said committee shall at once prepare an act authorizing Gen. John B. Campbell to purchase at public sale all the necessary guns and equipments to replace said material illegally removed; and that he is further authorized to summon and equip a sufficient army of state militia to recover all of the guns and other munitions so taken and replace same in the state arsenal, and that the sum of $250,000 be hereby appropriated by the general assembly of the commonwealth of Kentucky to carry out the provisions of this act.

The resolution lies over. The friends of the anti-German anti-outletting bill will make a fight in the house to take the bill out of the hands of the day. Those leading the opposition to the measure claim that every republican member of the legislature is in a breaking quarrel, and that the defeat of the bill is assured. A number of democrats are out of line, and the bill is not a hill, notwithstanding it was introduced by the democratic state platform.

TOO SOON TO ACT.

The United States May Reimburse Against the German Government for Seizure of American Goods.

Washington, March 6.—It is said in official circles here that there is nothing for the United States government to do at this stage in the working out of the policy of the German government respecting the treatment of American goods. The government has uniformly insisted that no foreign power had any right to encroach in respect to pending legislation, and has sharply rebuffed German ministers in Washington, where, in isolated instances, they have disregarded this injunction. Therefore, offensive as the matter will be to the United States government, the state department can not find a proper place just now for any official recognition of the German proposed addition to the restrictions upon American commerce.

The officials here show no open resentment at the recently announced effort of the German government to prevent our consuls from acquiring any information as to the adulteration of German goods and the existence of German goods in the collection of evidence, such, for instance, as the complete analysis of German goods entering the United States, which are now being made by the department of agriculture with a special view to the detection of adulteration. The view imported are regarded as particularly dear to the German interests, as they are the products of German soil.

ECHO OF A GREAT FAILURE.

Case Between the Fidelity National Bank of Cincinnati and a New York Bank Decided.

Washington, March 6.—In the United States supreme court Justice Harlan handed down an opinion in the case between the Fidelity National Bank of Cincinnati and the Citizens National Bank of New York, involving the validity of a loan of $300,000 made on the application of E. L. Harper, vice president of the New York bank. This money was credited to Harper's individual account. The Cincinnati bank failed, and when the New York concerns asked to be granted among its creditors the receiver of the failed bank refused to grant the request. The New York bank then sued in the circuit court, and that decision was affirmed by the supreme court.

ON THE WHEELS

That City Is To Be Relieved As Soon As the Siege of Kimberley Is Properly Raised.

GEN. LORD ROBERTS IS SILENT AGAIN

This Is Taken To Mean That Something Important Has Happened Or Is About To Happen.

The Relief of Ladysmith Cost Great Britain Upward of 5,000 Officers and Men in an Army of Only 25,000 Strong.

London, March 6.—Mafeking is to be relieved as soon as the British force directly on the way to Kimberley can raise the siege. This force is described vaguely as "strong." In view of the fact that the Kimberley light horse is under the control of the Boers, Gen. Lord Roberts' visit to Kimberley probably had to do with an arrangement with Cecil Rhodes to use this company of troops.

Mr. Rhodes and Col. Kekewich have had differences of policy, it appears, which have not been settled. The chief of Kimberley, "What shall I do with him?" Col. Kekewich is said to have wired to Roberts, who half humorously replied, according to a story circulated at the club, "Put him in chains." Fresh intelligence as to what Lord Roberts is doing has come again. This silence is taken to mean that something has happened or is about to happen.

The Boer raiders are uncommonly active in the northwestern section of Cape Colony, where they are stirring up the Dutch. Martial law has, consequently, been declared.

Mr. Chamberlain's request for 2,500 additional Australian bushmen is understood to be explained by the fact that the Boer raiders require a large force for the pursuit of irreconcilable Boers who, according to the intelligence department, have been equipped with modern arms and munitions and stores in the mountain fastnesses of the Zoutpansburg district in the north of the state, and are now preparing to carry on guerrilla warfare.

POSITION OF THE ARMIES.

That of the British seems to be the Most Advantageous—But Little Fighting Around Oosfontein.

London, March 6.—A dispatch to the Standard from Oosfontein, dated Sunday, March 4, says: "Lord Roberts' army now occupies a most advantageous position. The sixth division, under Gen. Kelly-Kenny, is posted on the right and holds all the kopjes for a distance of five miles against the hill of Oosfontein. The division, under Gen. Tucker, is in the center, immediately south of the river, and Gen. Colville, with the ninth division, is on the north bank, commanding the left bank. Gen. French, is posted on the left front, and the mounted infantry, under Col. Biddis-Marrige, on the right front. "The country round consists of wide grassy plains, broken only by ridges and isolated kopjes. A body of the enemy has taken up a position on one of the latter, a flat-topped hill to the north of the river, five miles beyond Oosfontein. The British, who had to use horse artillery and shelled them. Another force of 4,000 strong holds an isolated group of kopjes south of the Oosfontein, and in front of the British mounted infantry. Their position is surrounded on all sides by level plains over which the Boers must move their guns in order to reach the river. As a consequence their situation appears precarious in the extreme. "The veil is now in beautiful condition. Water is plentiful, supplies being obtainable not only from the river, but also from numerous small springs. The health and spirits of the troops are excellent. The British cavalry and mounted infantry have been reconnoitering the enemy's positions. There has been little fighting."

ENGLAND'S GREAT LOSS.

The Relief of Ladysmith Cost Upward of 5,000 Officers and Men—Tribute to Buller.

London, March 6.—Winston Churchill, describing the relief of Ladysmith in a dispatch published by the Morning Post, says: "The relief of Ladysmith was effected at a cost of upward of 5,000 officers and men in an army only 25,000 strong." He goes on to pay a high tribute to Sir Buller, who he says, "in the confidence his men had in him, 'with only that the enterprise could hardly have succeeded.' " Of Gen. Buller's attack on February 27 Mr. Churchill says: "Considered in itself, it was a masterpiece, soundly conceived, boldly launched and skillfully executed." He adds that "Mare also was due to the greatly improved intelligence department."

Mr. Churchill points out that the Boers now hold Van Rensselaersburg, but that a majority of the Free States have accompanied the Transvaal northward.

a heavy fire with Maxims, and also began firing from a kopje in the center of the position with a long-range 15-pounder. The Boer trekking in consequence of Gen. French's movement, was temporarily stopped.

Not Time for Mediation.

Rome, March 6.—In the chamber of deputies, replying to several deputations who suggested that the time had arrived for mediation in South Africa, the minister of foreign affairs, Marquis Visconti Venosta, declared that he shared such sentiments, but thought action in the desired sense could only be exercised when circumstances rendered it opportune and likely to be successful, and he thought that moment had not yet arrived.

Martial Law Proclaimed.

Cape Town, March 6.—Sir Alfred Milner has issued the following proclamation: "Whereas, the enemy's forces have invaded the districts of Priskas, Kenhardt, Britstown and Barkley West; and whereas, many British subjects have taken up arms against them, and they have committed invasion and suppress rebellion; now, therefore, martial law is hereby proclaimed in these districts."

Kraeger Ready to Conclude Peace.

Manila, March 6.—Gen. The enemy resisted at one point, and two Americans were killed, including Lieut. John B. Gallagher, of the 40th regiment.

On February 20 the expedition arrived at San Miguel Bay, landed and, in three columns, immediately pushed inland, covering upon Nueva Caceres and surrounding territory, and controlling the enemy's routes to retreat.

At Llanuam, north of Nueva Caceres, the enemy was concealed in the rice field and resisted a battalion of the 40th regiment, which engaged them at close quarters with bayonets. After 40 minutes' fighting the enemy fled, and Llanuam was occupied.

The Americans killed 64 of the enemy, whose total loss in killed and wounded is estimated at 140.

PART OF WRECKED SHIP

How a Firm of English Shipbuilders Are Utilizing Part of a Wrecked Vessel.

Probably the most remarkable achievement in the line of wrecking and rebuilding is represented by the reconstructed steamer Milwaukee, which was turned out in the summer of 1900 at the yard of C. S. Swan & Hunter at Wallsend-on-Tyne, England, and sailed on the 10th of September, 1900.

The Milwaukee, a vessel of 483 feet length and 56-foot beam, went ashore near Aberdeen in September, 1898, a huge rock penetrating the hold for a length of 30 feet and to a height of eight feet above the tank top. When the salvage operators saw that it would be impossible to save the entire vessel it was decided to blow her in two with dynamite. This was done successfully and 130 feet of the fore and aft sections were blown away, while the middle section was left after and was towed to a dry dock.

The saved portion of the vessel depicted for flotation until placed in dry dock, and then the entire vessel was hulked at the forward end of the boiler space. It was towed to the Tyne and moored in the river until a new hull was built, and the vessel was ready for connection with it. So well was this done that a person ignorant of the facts would never know that he was looking at the original hull, while even those persons who knew the circumstances of the case were unable to point out the place where the junction of the new and old portions was made.

FROST SPOILED THE SPORT.

Sad Misfortune That Befell a Party of Georgia Chicken Fighters on a Stranded Steamboat.

Furly dejected and homesick gamblers returned to Knoxville the other day, says the Savannah News. On their return from a party of chicken fighting they left on a steamboat for an isolated resort down the river, where they expected to have a great cocking man. Before the destination was reached the steamer went on a sandbar and stuck. A heavy rain storm coming on, the weather was very cool and the men were forced to the craft. The sports, determined to make the best they could of the situation, improvised a pit on the deck and held a few fights. As the hours went by and the night grew colder and the ice in the river thicker, there came a hope of getting the best of it being rescued. Then someone became hungry, and it was ascertained that the sandwiches had given out. There was nothing to eat on board. For some hours longer the sports put on a brave front, but finally hunger got the best of them and they put their gamecocks to rest at five to one hundred dollars each to slaughter. For two days and two nights they hung up the sandwiches, eating chicken that fairly tasted of misery.

TWO TALL STORIES.

One Each from Boston and Philadelphia, So Each Must Be True.

A writer in a Boston publication says that not long ago a hawk caught a fish in Long Island sound, and while trying with it to the water to devour it, it was the fish, but came from the hawk's hold and dropped into a farmer's pond, where it was found sitting. A dog caught the fish, and it came down, and the hawk swooped after it, but the dog turned and ran, and the hawk, at the feet of his master, it proved to be a large bluefish, and it was served up that night in an appetizing way.

The dog, however, was not so lucky. In the same paper at the same time, it is said, a fish was caught by a farmer, and it was the fish, but came from the hawk's hold and dropped into a farmer's pond, where it was found sitting. A dog caught the fish, and it came down, and the hawk, at the feet of his master, it proved to be a large bluefish, and it was served up that night in an appetizing way.

A HOWLING SUCCESS!

Was the Meeting of the Limestone Debating Club.

DRYDEN AND DAILY, STARS.

The Meeting One of the Best Yet Held by This Society.

Last Friday night The Limestone Fire Hall was comfortably filled with eager and anxious listeners long before the hour arrived for the discussion of that well worn yet fruitful subject, "Resolved, That the Negro Has Been More Mal-Treated Than the Indian."

Messrs. Simons, Meacham and Dryden of the affirmative and Turnipseed, Simons and Daily of the negative, were the principal speakers.

Mr. Dryden, the "Tall Nymcomer of the Sixth," arose, amid wild applause, and undertook to dissect the vital question.

He gave vent to his feelings, and his argument came as a cyclone, sweeping everything before him, and elicited every word from the Koran down to the speller of a Dutch butcher, and it was then that the Judges realized the awful cruelty to which the Negro had long been subjected, being butchered in such a manner, if not more so, than the English language.

He dealt largely with the evils and cruelties arising from slavery. Two pictures had forcibly presented themselves before his mind—that of John Wickliffe and Abraham Lincoln.

As the former was the leading star of the Reformation, so was the latter the bright and morning star of Freedom, who advocated one Flag, and which meant that while the Negro was dwarfed by hunger, broken in spirit, victims of tyranny and caste, yet their children born of liberty and love, will be fair, intelligent and free.

Mr. Dryden continued his speech in eloquent terms, thanking his friends for their earnest and inexpressible attention and trust that his feeble remarks would be productive of overwhelming profits, and returning his heartfelt sympathies, he resumed his seat.

Mr. Daily, the "O'lash of the Fifth," then followed, exclaiming as he arose to his feet, "Dander and Blitzen, God Save Hoosier Dr. Doodle."

Always popular, he scored many hits. Mr. Joshua Simons closed the argument in such forcible manner that made the decision of the Judges unanimous in favor of the affirmative.

The meeting then adjourned.
